WELCOME

Dear Students,

Welcome to the Global Health Program! This unique and innovative program has two options: a Specialized Honours Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree, and an Honours Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree.

Both options in the Global Health Program (Specialized Honours BA/BSc, and Honours BA/BSc) comprise 120 credits. An interdisciplinary program, it draws on curriculum from across the four units in the Faculty of Health (School of Health Policy & Management, School of Kinesiology & Health Science, School of Nursing, and Department of Psychology), the Faculty of Environmental Studies, and other Faculties across the university. A basic concept of the program is health promotion, viewed from an ecological and social determinants perspective. Courses provide a strong foundation for students to become agents of change through critical engagement with pertinent issues and current world affairs. The program emphasizes innovative teaching-learning approaches including blended (classroom and online) learning and experiential learning, where students are introduced to real-world health issues and have opportunities to address relevant topics in practice and research. Graduates will be able to apply knowledge and skills from a global perspective in order to address complex issues of human health and well-being in the rapidly changing and yet increasingly interconnected global village.

In the Specialized Honours program, students in both streams (BA and BSc) take the same core courses totaling 60 credits, plus at least 21 credits in an area of concentration shaped to their individual career interests. The specialization areas are: global health promotion and disease prevention; global health policy, systems and management; global e-health; and global health and the environment. In the final year of the program, you will take an Integrated Global Health Practicum course, which you can opt to do in an international placement.

In the Honours program, students in both streams (BA and BSc) take core courses in Global Health totaling 48 credits. These core courses are the same as in the Specialized Honours program except that the Integrated Global Health Practicum course and the Global Health Research Capstone course are excluded. The Honours program provides students with the flexibility to combine their studies in Global Health with another Major or Minor program.

The professors who teach in this program are highly experienced, with significant global health expertise. Many have research programs focused on health improvement in Canada and abroad. Please feel free to approach any one of them should you wish to discuss anything. Also, all students are encouraged to meet with the Program Coordinator on a yearly basis to go over course selection and any other concerns or questions you may have.

I hope that this Supplemental Calendar will prove useful to you.

Wishing you every success in your studies!

The Global Health Program: An Overview

Global health challenges, including chronic and infectious disease, do not recognize borders. The health of the world's population is intertwined with broader issues, including wealth disparity, environmental degradation, government policy and human rights.

York's Global Health degree (BA and BSc), in the Faculty of Health, examines these and many other issues with a focus on preparing the next generation of health leaders with the knowledge and skills to improve health for people worldwide by helping to create conditions that allow for greater health equity. This undergraduate degree program, the first of its kind in Canada, aims to produce agents of change who will fulfill leadership and advocacy positions in education, research, health systems, and business in both the private and public sectors locally, nationally and internationally.

The Global Health Program offers both a Bachelor of Arts (BA) and a Bachelor of Science (BSc) degree, as follows. Students in each program option will benefit from the flexibility of selected courses offered online or in a blended (online and in-class) format:

1. BA/BSc Specialized Honours in Global Health (120 credits)

The Specialized Honours degree options combine core, foundational courses that all students take including (among others) Determinants of Health, Chronic Diseases and Care, Communicable Diseases and Care, Global Health Research Methods & Measurement, Health and Human Rights, Global Health Policy: Power and Politics, Healthcare Planning, and Global Health Governance and Leadership..

In addition to core courses, students in the Specialized Honours program take a minimum of 21 credits in electives from one of four areas of concentration shaped to their individual career interests. The concentrations are health promotion and disease prevention; global health policy, systems and management; global e-health; and global health and the environment. In their final term, students take a 250-hour Integrated Global Health Practicum course, working in the field with academic institutions and NGOs locally, in Canada, or internationally. This is followed by a 2-week intensive research capstone course.

The BSc degree option also includes courses in the physical and life sciences, while the BA option includes courses in the social sciences and humanities.

2. BA/BSc Honours in Global Health (120 credits)

The Honours BA and BSc degree options require a minimum of 48 credits from core, foundational courses including (among others) Determinants of Health, Chronic Diseases and Care, Communicable Diseases and Care, Global Health Research Methods & Measurement, Health and Human Rights, Global Health Policy: Power and Politics, Healthcare Planning, and Global Health Governance and Leadership.

In addition to core courses in the major, students take elective courses shaped to their individual interests, which may include courses from other disciplines. Both Honours BA and BSc degree options will allow students who so choose to take a double major or pursue a minor in another program.

The BSc degree option also includes courses in the physical and life sciences, while the BA option includes courses in the social sciences and humanities.

3. BA/BSc in Global Health (90 credits)

Students in the BA/BSc in Global Health (90 credits) complete at least 36 (but not more than 42 credits) in the major. The courses leading to this degree are the same Global Health core courses offered in the Specialized Honours and Honours BA/BSc except the Integrated Global Health Practicum course and the Global Health Research Capstone course are excluded. Current Global Health students in the Honours programs may request to graduate a year earlier with the BA/BSc 90 credit degree.

Double Major or Minor in Global Health

The Honours BA and BSc degree options allow students who so choose to take a double major or pursue a minor in another program.

The Specialized Honours Degrees may not be combined with double majors or minors.

Core Competencies for Graduates in Global Health

BA graduates in Global Health will possess:

- Breadth and depth of knowledge in key works, theories and critique of the discipline and supportive fields of study

Passport York Account

Passport York authenticates you as a member of the York computing community, and gives you access to a wide range of Computing resources and services such as enrolment, your student financial account and your grades.

If you do not yet have a Passport York account, you can log in to Manage My Services using your student number for your username, and your date of birth for your password (in the format YYYYMMDD), then follow the directions to change your password after the first time you log in.

Below is a list of the types of accounts available. You may have additional accounts or services available to you based on your course enrolment.

My.yorku.ca Email Account

York's email service for Undergraduate students has moved to Google Apps for Education™! The new Google Apps at York service will provide students with the latest web-based communication and collaboration tools such as Google Email, Calendar and Drive/Docs with UNLIMITED STORAGE!. All new students get a Google Apps account automatically when they activate their Passport York account via Manage My Services. Email address format is username@my.yorku.ca. Access to Google Apps at York requires Passport York login credentials, same account used for Manage My Services or Add/Drop courses system and it can be accessed through:

Access Google Mail – mail.my.yorku.ca

Access Google Drive/Docs – drive.my.yorku.ca

Access Google Calendar – calendar.my.yorku.ca

Having an active username@my.yorku.ca email account is crucial. Important email regarding your course will be sent to your username@my.yorku.ca email account. Please check it regularly or forward it to an email account you use frequently.

Electives: additional elective credits as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits. Elective credits may be used to fulfill science and upper-level credits.

Honours Minor in Global Health

The Honours Minor program in Global Health comprises at least 30 (but no more than 42) credits in Global Health. These 30 credits must include:

- HH/IHST 2000 3.00
- HH/IHST 2010 6.00
- HH/IHST 2100 3.00
- HH/IHST 2200 3.00
- At least 6.00 credits chosen from 4000 level courses (excluding HH/IHST 4300 9.00 and HH/IHST 4400 3.00)

Additional credits from the Global Health Core courses (excluding HH/IHST 4300 9.00 and HH/IHST 4400 3.00) for an overall total of at least 30 credits in Global Health.

Honours Progression

Students who have completed less than 84 earned credits whose cumulative grade point average is below 5.0 may continue in Honours provided they meet the year level progression requirements as follows:

| Year Level | Credits Earned | Minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) |
|------------|----------------------|--|
| One | 0-23 earned credits | 4.00 |
| Two | 24-53 earned credits | 4.25 |
| Three | 54-83 earned credits | 4.80 |
| Four | 84 earned credits | 5.00 |

NOTE: Year level is based on the number of earned credits including transfer credit.

Entry/Re-Entry

Students may enter/re-enter Global Health BA/BSc Honours if they meet the year level progression requirements for Honours as specified in the table above. Students who have not attained the 5.0 cumulative grade point average at the point of completing 84 credits, will be ineligible to proceed in the Honours Global Health program. No extra courses may be taken in a subsequent session in an effort to raise the grade point average to qualify for Honours.

NOTE: All students who enter/re-enter the Global Health BA/BSc Honours program must follow the requirements of the program in place at the time of entry/re-entry.

Graduating With a BA/BSc Honours Degree

Students must pass at least 120 credits which meet Faculty of Health degree and program requirements with a cumulative grade point average of at least 5.0.

Failure to Maintain Honours Standing: GPA Requirement

Global Health students who fail to meet the Honours standing grade point average requirement will be ineligible to proceed in their Honours BA/BSc Global Health programs. It is recommended that these students plan course selections to meet graduation requirements for a 90 credit BA/BSc degree in Global Health or in another subject area. Advising is strongly recommended. For further details, consult the Office of Student and Academic Services (OSAS) OSAS Contact Information

Degree Progress Report (DPR)

Students in a single major program can also use the Degree Progress Report (DPR), an online self-serve tool to keep track of your progress towards your degree.

The DPR checks legislative requirements that are needed to graduate in your degree program. It checks all of the courses on your official record that you have taken at York towards your degree. Based on this automated review, it shows you what requirements you have already completed, what requirements you still need to complete and what is currently in progress.

The DPR is available online at: Degree Progress Report

Course Descriptions

NOTE: not all courses are offered every year. Some courses are offered via the internet. For details please refer to the web site or the lecture schedule.

1000 Level Courses

HH/IHST 1000 6.00 Human Anatomy and Physiology for Health

General Description: This course will examine human anatomy and physiology with a focus on health and disease in the body as a whole as well as each body system. Students will examine how the different body systems work together to maintain homeostasis and how the systems react when homeostasis is disrupted by disease.

Course Credit Exclusions: HH/KINE 2011 3.00, HH/KINE 2031 3.00 Open to: Global Health degree students

HH/IHST 1001 3.00 Human Anatomy & Physiology for Health I

General Description: This course examines human anatomy and physiology with a focus on health and disease in the body as a whole as well as each body system. Students examine how the different body systems work together to maintain homeostasis and how the systems react when homeostasis is disrupted by disease.

Course Credit Exclusions: HH/KINE 2011 3.00, HH/KINE 2031 3.00, SC/NATS 1650 6.00

HH/IHST 1002 3.00 Human Anatomy & Physiology for Health II

General Description: In this foundational course students examine the concepts of health and global health through multiple philosophical and disciplinary lenses. Applying complexity theory, students analyze effective change processes and the attributes of those lead them. Students reflect on the question "Can one person make a difference?" as they construct a scholarly portrait of themselves as agents of change for health.

Note 1: Students will engage in experiential learning. This course uses blended learning approaches with alternating on-line and face-to-face learning.

Note 2: This course has been approved in the Faculty of Health for general education credits.

2000 Level Courses

HH/IHST 2000 3.00 Global Health Policy: Power and Politics

General Description: Analyzes the process through which global health policy is developed. As national and global initiatives can intertwine, the course begins by exploring and categorizing the manner in which nation governments are structured, and the factors that influence the process of policy decisions-making at the national and global levels. Explores case studies that demonstrate global health policy development.

Prerequisite: HH/IHST 1010 3.00

HH/IHST 2010 6.00 Global Health Research Methods & Measurement

General Description: An introduction to methodological, statistical and computer techniques used in research and the application of these techniques to quantitative and qualitative research in the context of global health. Topics such as research design, sources of validity and bias, reading research reports and interpretation of findings and applicable analytical methods will be included for both research paradigms.

Course Credit Exclusions: HH/KINE 2049 3.00 and KINE 2050 3.0 or HH/PSYC 2021 3.00 and HH/PSYC 2030 3.00 or HH/HLST 2300 6.0.

HH/IHST 2100 3:00 Chronic Diseases & Care

General Description: This course will examine the complexity and impact of chronic diseases, also known as non-communicable diseases, within national and international health care systems. It will define and investigate the current prevalence, significance, risk factors and determinants of the major current chronic conditions and their prevention and management.

Pre-requisite: HH/IHST1000 6.00 or HH/IHST 1001 3.00 and HH/IHST 1002 3.00

HH/IHST 2200 Determinants of Health 3.00 Local to Global

General Description: This course will provide an opportunity for participants to develop or strengthen their understanding of social determinants of health from a global perspective. Participants will engage in critical analysis of social inequities and the health consequences to global populations and will also develop an understanding of the concept of global citizenship.

Course Credit Exclusion: HH/HLST 3010 3.00

3000 Level Courses

HH/IHST 3000 3.00 Epidemiological Approaches to Health Care

General Description: The course will provide an introduction to the basic principles of epidemiology. The use of epidemiologic methods for population and public health research will be emphasized.

Prerequisites: HH/IHST1000 6.00 or HH/IHST 1001 3.00 and HH/IHST 1002 3.00, HH/IHST2100 3.00, HH/IHST2010 6.00 or HH/KINE 2049 3.00 and HH/KINE 2050 3.00, HH/PSYC 2021 3.00 or HH/PSYC 2020 6.00 and HH/PSYC 2030 3.00 or HH/HLST 2300 6.00.

Open to: Students in the BA and BSc in Global Health

HH/IHST 3100 3.00 Communicable Diseases and Care

General Description: This course introduces students to the current knowledge and application of epidemiology to communicable diseases.

Prerequisites: HH/IHST1000 6.00 or HH/IHST 1001 3.00 and HH/IHST 1002 3.00, HH/IHST2100 3.00, HH/IHST2010 6.00

HH/IHST 3545 3.00 Promoting Global Health

General Description: Students examine the evidence that while progress in achieving important global health outcomes has occurred, significant challenges remain to be solved. Global health issues impacted by such factors as poverty, gender inequality, international trade policy, climate-change, loss of biodiversity, food insecurity, war and displacement are explored as expressions of structural influences which perpetuate global disparities in health. Asking the question "What would it take to achieve health for all?" students identify pressing global health issues and the global health promotion strategies being used to address them.

Prerequisites: HH/IHST 1010 3.00, HH/IHST 2000 3.00, HH/IHST 2200 3.00

Note: This course uses blended learning approaches with alternating on-line and face-to-face learning.

HH/IHST 3550 3.00 Global Health Architecture

General Description: Provides a comprehensive overview of the current and constantly changing Global Health Architecture, its evolution since the Second World War and the forces that influence and shape this process. The course will critically assess the global forces that interact, inform, influence and shape global health policies, programs and macro-level resource allocation.

Prerequisites: HH/HLST 2020 3.00 or HH/IHST 2000 3.00

Note: This course is an elective course in the Global Health Policy, Management and Systems concentration

HH/IHST 3740 3.00 Health Care Planning for Communities

General Description: This course provides a theoretical and methodological background for health problem analysis and program/service planning at the community and regional levels.

4000 Level Courses

HH/IHST 4000 3.00 or 6.00 Independent Study

General Description: Students may arrange to do independent study with faculty members of the Global Health Program and the Faculty of Health. This course is intended to enable students of exceptional ability to pursue individual fields of interest not otherwise provided for by their regular curriculum. Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in this course and require approval from the Program Director.

Prerequisite: Students applying for Independent Study must have i) completed 72 academic credits including related introductory courses in the topic area, and ii) achieved an overall GPA of 6.0 OR a GPA of 6.0 in the student's last 30 credits Open to: Students in the BA/BSc Global Health and other Health majors and/or students whose study proposal is relevant to current health issues

Notes: The maximum number of Independent Study Course credits is 18 credits. Students may take a maximum of 12 credits of Independent Study Courses within their last 30 credits of their degree studies and may take a maximum of 12 credits of Independent Study Courses with the same faculty member.

HH/IHST 4010 3.00 Health Care Ethics: Policy and Management

General Description: Provides an overview of ethical issues involved in health care policy, management and informatics in a global context. It combines theory and practical application to allow for reflection on the role values and beliefs play in health policy, management and informatics decisions.

Prerequisite: HH/IHST 1010 and HH/IHST 2000 3.0 or equivalents or permission of course instructor.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

Plagiarism and Cheating

York University has formal policies on plagiarism, cheating and other forms of breaches of academic honesty. Full details on the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty can be found at <http://www.yorku.ca/secretariat/policies/index-policies.html>

Plagiarism and Cheating are serious offences and are dealt with strictly in the Global Health Program...

Plagiarism is the presentation of work as one's own, which originates from some other unacknowledged source. In examinations, term papers and other graded assignments, verbatim or almost verbatim presentation of someone else's work without attribution constitutes plagiarism. This is deemed to include the student's own words, as if it were her or his own, without acknowledgement.

Cheating is defined as

- the unauthorized giving or receiving or utilizing, or attempt at giving or obtaining or utilizing, of information or assistance during an examination. (References to examinations also include tests)
- the unauthorized obtaining or conveying, or attempt at obtaining or conveying, of examination questions. giving or receiving assistance on an essay or assignment, which goes beyond that sanctioned by the instructor. (This includes the buying and selling of, and attempt at buying or selling of, essays and/or research assistance relating to course assignments.)
- impersonating someone else or causing or allowing oneself to be impersonated in an examination, or knowingly availing oneself of the results of impersonation.
- presenting a single piece of work in more than one course without the permission of the instructors involved.

Other Forms of Breaching Academic Honesty

The following constitutes a breach of academic honesty: making false claims or statements, submitting false information, altering official documents or records or attempting or causing others to do or attempt any of the above, so as to mislead an instructor or an academic unit, program, office or committee as to student's academic status, qualifications, actions or preparation.

Theft of Intellectual Property: York University Student Code of Conduct specifically prohibits a student's theft of intellectual property, which includes recording a course director's lecture without permission or taking lecture material provided for a student online, modifying it and/or using it for a student's own personal use or gain. The material provided by a course director is to be used only for students' personal study when they take the course for which it was created. Use in any other way could result, at the minimum, in sanctions in accordance with the York University Student Code of Conduct and, at the maximum, will be breaking federal, provincial or municipal laws and will be acted on
